

Competition Terms and Conditions

1. The Promoter of this competition is Macmillan Education, a division of Macmillan Publishers Limited, Brunel Road, Houndmills, Basingstoke, Hants. RG21 6XS England.
2. The competition is not open to employees or agents of Macmillan Education or any other company in the same group of companies as Macmillan Education or anyone else connected to the competition and/or their immediate family.
3. The deadline to enter the competition is Thursday 2nd May 2013 at midnight.
4. There is no minimum age to enter however entrants under 18 years of age must obtain authorisation from a parent or guardian before entering this competition. Macmillan Education reserves the right to request evidence of such authorisation and to invalidate entries or the winners if the appropriate authorisation is or was not provided.
5. The winning entry: The person who can email us the most 'black' words from Beatles songs (quote which songs) will be the winner. If there is a draw, one winner will be chosen at random. Macmillan Education will notify the winner by 10th May 2013. The judge's decision is final and we will not discuss their decision with you.
6. The winner will win £30 in eBook vouchers from the Macmillan Education eBookstore: www.macmillaneducationbookstore.com
7. The winner will be notified by 10th May 2013 by email, using the email address provided when you entered the competition. The winner must reply to that email within 30 days of receipt. If no response is received, Macmillan Education reserves the right to select another winner.
8. All entries must be submitted via help@macmillan.com. Please include your name and email address.
9. The prize is not transferable or exchangeable and cannot be redeemed for cash. Macmillan Education accepts no responsibility for any variation in prize value following the commencement date of the competition. In the unlikely event that the prize should become unavailable, Macmillan Education reserves the right to substitute a prize which it may determine as being of equal value.
10. Macmillan Education and its associated agencies and companies will not be liable for any loss (including, without limitation, indirect, special or consequential loss or loss of profits), expense, damage, personal injury or death which is suffered or sustained (whether or not arising from any person's negligence) in connection with this competition or accepting or using any prize, except for any liability which cannot be excluded by law (in which case that liability is limited to the minimum allowable by law).

11. Macmillan Education reserves the right to cancel or terminate the competition without giving advance notice or disqualify any entrant at any time and will do so if it cannot be guaranteed that the competition can be carried out correctly for technical or legal reasons or if Macmillan Education suspects that any person has been manipulating the results or isn't in compliance with these terms and conditions.
12. The winner is responsible for any tax implications arising from winning a prize.
13. Personal information entrants provide will be used by Macmillan Education for the purpose of conducting this competition. Macmillan Education may disclose entrants' personal information to its contractors and agents to assist in conducting this competition or communicating with entrants.
14. The competition is void where prohibited by local law and entrants from these countries will not be eligible to win the prize.
15. Participation demonstrates acceptance of these terms and conditions. These terms are subject to English law.